What is the National Core Indicators (NCI) Family/Guardian Survey?

Each year, we try to find out how people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families feel about the services they get. We use surveys to ask people all around the country, and each year we ask different people. States can use the answers to find out if people like their services. They can also compare across years to see if this is changing over time.

Who answers the questions on a Family/Guardian Survey?

The questions on the Family/Guardian survey are answered by a family member or guardian of an adult who gets services from the state (like a parent or other family member). The person who answered the survey does not live with the person getting services from the state. The person who answered the questions is not the person who gets the services. Each time the state surveys families, a new group of families is asked to participate.

How do we show their answers?

This year, 203 families answered our Family Guardian Survey. Each page of this report shows their answers to a different question.

We use words and figures to show the number of yes and no answers we got. Some of our survey questions have more than a yes or no answer. In fact, some ask people to pick: “always,” “usually,” “sometimes,” “seldom,” or “never.” For this report, we count all “always” or “usually” answers as yes. All others we count as no. (If you want to see the full range of answers separately, you can find those here: www.nationalcoreindicators.org.)

We also use graphs to show the answers in percentages. Percentages go from 0% to 100%. Higher percentages mean that more people answered a certain way. For example, 90% means 9 out of 10 people answered the same way. Lower percentages mean that fewer people answered in a certain way. For example, 20% means 2 out of every 10 people answered the same way.

Before you start reading...

Remember, these questions were answered by someone who does not live with the person receiving services but knows them well—usually a parent or guardian. So when we say “family member,” that means the adult who’s receiving services from the state.

There are also a few words in this report that can mean different things:

- Case Manager can mean Support Coordinator or Service Coordinator
- Service Plan can mean Individual Service Plan (ISP) or Individualized Program Plan (IPP)
- Guardian can mean Conservator

NCI asked families about the information they get to help plan services.
